

AI for Storytellers: Amplifying Creativity & Connection

In the new era of content, AI isn't just changing how we tell stories—it's changing who can tell them. This is the marketer's guide to maintaining authenticity at infinite scale.

Scale your output, not your burnout.

From creating marketing-grade video with Sora to dubbing content into 11 languages, the barrier between idea and execution has collapsed. But for creatives, the question remains: "If AI helps me, is it really mine?" This session acts as a practical toolkit for marketers and creatives who need to do more with less. We dismantle the fear that AI destroys creativity and replace it with a workflow that amplifies intent. Austin walks you through the exact tools and tactics used to create high-quality, authentic content—demonstrating how to survive the shift from traditional SEO to "AI SEO," where being cited by an algorithm is the new ranking factor.

Key Takeaways

- The Sora Workflow: A step-by-step breakdown of how to take an existing winning ad concept and multiply it into generated videos that don't look like "AI slop."
- Dominate AI Search: Why traditional SEO is fading and how to structure your content to be the primary source for ChatGPT and Perplexity.
- The Authenticity Rule: How to use AI to amplify your taste and vision without losing the human connection your audience craves.
- The Marketing Toolbelt: A curated list of the best tools for video, design, lead gen, and editing that you can try immediately.
- Scaling Personal Connection: Case studies on how brands use AI to personalize experiences for millions.
